Week 2 Progress Report

We met for around 4 hours this week. Our goals of the week were to set up the Git repository, edit our UML diagram, and update our grid. We have the git repository set up and everyone can branch it and edit their own forks. Our UML diagram is updated but as the project gets more complete we will have more things to add. The grid will not display. The update grid method gets called but it will never call get view for some reason. This week we want to get the grid displayed and get all of our logic programmed so the basics of the game can be played.
